Atenean Stories

Studying in the corridors of Arete where we could charge our phones, cool down with the aircon, and enjoy the view of the amphitheatre. - Isa Tagulinao, 4 AB COM

If you have free time in between classes or you want to hang out with friends after school. Ateneo Art Gallery in Arete is the best hangout spot. Aside from the unique architecture of the building, the museum features modern art from artists and it's a great spot to take pictures. - Joy Paler, 2 BS Lf Sci

I used to study a lot in arete but that was only because my happy crush hung out there a lot and I wanted to see her hehehe - Liam 5 BS APS MSE

03 Berchman's Hall

The Berchmans Hall, Berchmans or Berch for short, stands along the Zen Garden Area.

You can find here the Office of the Associate Dean for Core Curriculum.

There are also "sunroofs" above the windows of Berch that help block direct sunlight from reaching the classrooms!

08 Church of the Gesu

Church of the Gesu is located within the heart of the campus.

Gesu is Italian for Jesus. It was named after the mother church of the Jesuits in Rome, which is similarly called the Church of the Gesu.

University masses and Simbang Gabi are also held here. During the UAAP season, you can also see athletes going to Gesu before and after their game.

09 College Covered Courts / PE Complex

Freshies, this may be one of the first places you will make lasting memories in! Ateneo's Covered Courts is one of the main venues for OrSem, so expect to hear blasting music and feel the TNT's energy from far away!

10 Horacio De La Costa Hall

X

In the Social Sciences Garden Area, there is the Horacio V. De La Costa SJ Humanities Building, more commonly known as De La Costa or DLC.

Outside the De la Costa Hall is the statue of Fr. Horacio dela Costa, SJ, who was a known Atenean Scholar and Jesuit. Fr. dela Costa was also a prolific writer and historian, some even considered him to be the Jose Rizal of his time.

This building holds many Humanities departments as well as the Office of the Dean of the School of Humanities. The English, Filipino, Interdisciplinary Studies, Philosophy, and Theology departments can be found here too!

12 Faura Hall

If you have a Physics Lab, expect to be familiar with this building!

Along Red Brick Road, there stands the Faura Hall which houses the Department of Physics and the Department of Information Systems and Computer Sciences.

The building was named after Fr. Federico Faura, SJ, founder and first Director of the Manila Observatory who led the first studies into earthquakes in the country. In 1879, the Observatory helped predict typhoon tracks in the Philippines.

Along the Zen Garden Area, you can also find the Gonzaga Hall which houses the AMPC Cafeteria. It is also called Gonzaga or Gonz.

Blue & Gold Cafeteria is another canteen that you can find on the second floor and just like there is a Matteo Down and Matteo Up, we also have Gonz Down and Gonz Up.

Near the parking lot is the Gonzaga Chapel or the Immaculate Conception Chapel which has become a sanctuary for students, faculty, and staff of the Ateneo.

15 Institute of Social Order (ISO)

The Institute of Social Order or ISO is the go-to of Ateneans for the photocopying and printing services. There is also the ISO Cafeteria where you find home-cooked meals!

This building also houses various NGOs.

Fun Facts

A lot of Ateneans can attest that the ISO has the best sisig!

16 John Gokongwei School of Management (JGSOM) Building

X

The John Gokongwei School of Management (JGSOM) Building is a project funded by John Gokongwei in 2002. It was established when the School of Management was created as a result of the restructuring of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Similar to the CTC Building, JGSOM also has an elevator and rooms that are air-conditioned! Students entering SOM classrooms in this building are required to follow a stricter dress code.

Rooms

- Office of the Dean of JGSOM
- JGSOM School of Management Business Accelerator

17 JGSOM Student Enterprise Center (JSEC)

X

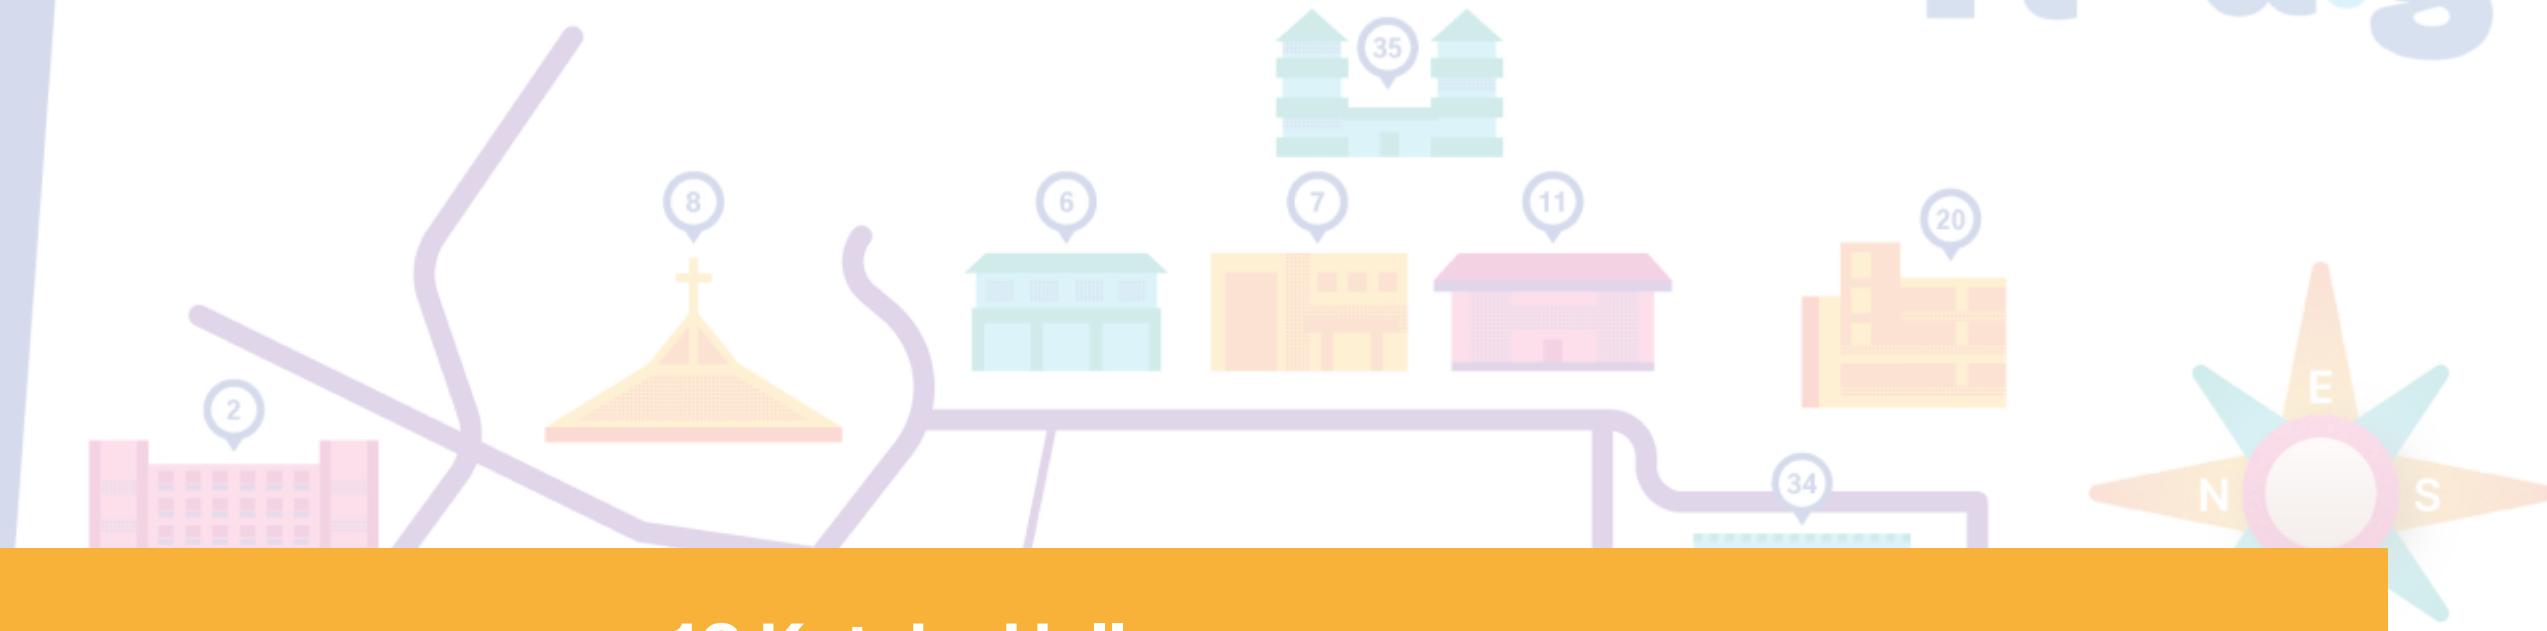

In between Matteo Ricci and CTC is the JGSOM Student Enterprise Center or what we typically call "JSEC." It was built in 2007 to serve as a business laboratory for all Ateneans (Yes, not just to JGSOM students!) where stalls were given to participants through a series of business competitions called the JSEC Challenge.

Unfortunately, the stalls are currently closed but get excited for when it finally opens up again!

19 Leong Hall

X

Across Arete is the Leong Hall. Located here are most of the Social Sciences departments in Ateneo such as the Departments of Anthropology, Sociology, Chinese Studies, Development Studies, and Diplomacy and International Relations.

It started as an initiative to foster a center for Chinese Studies at the University through an endowment from Mr. Ricardo and Dr. Rosita Leong.

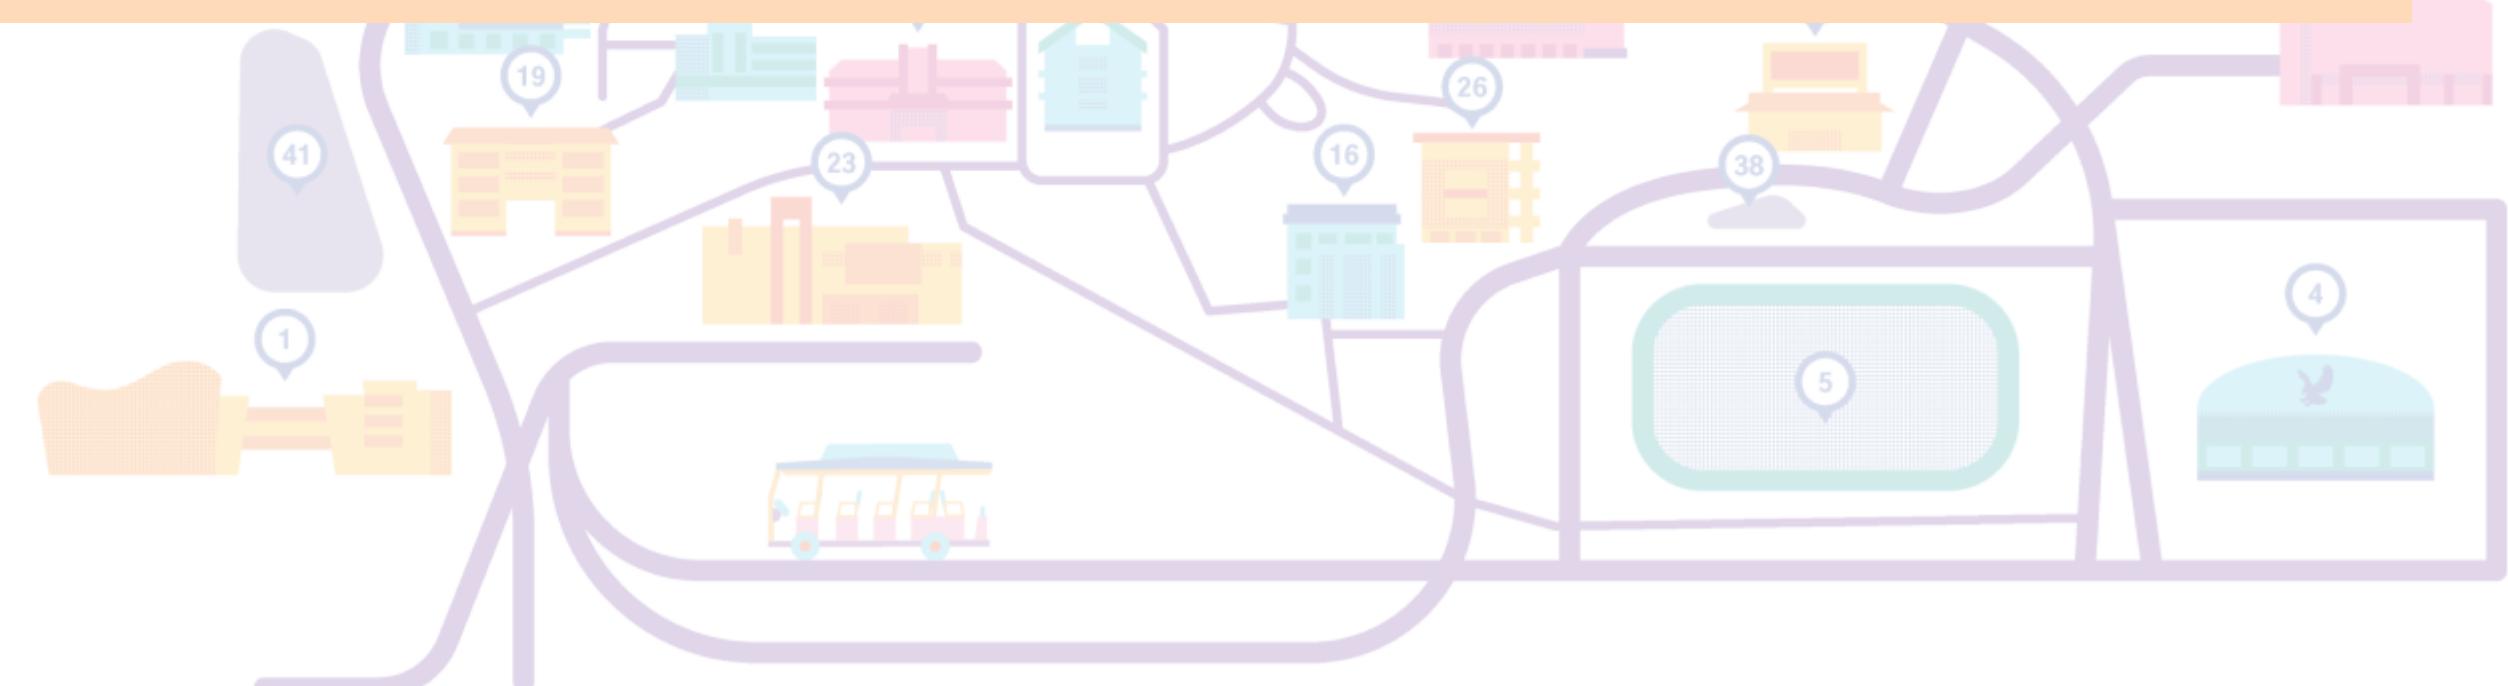

The building was completed within 10 months of its construction date and has an elevator. It houses the Leong Hall Auditorium, Ateneo Center for Asian Studies, Office of the Dean of School of Social Sciences, and the Leong Hall Roof Deck.

21 MVP Center for Student Leadership

g

If you are an org-active student, this will definitely be your home once they start onsite operations!

The Manuel V. Pangilinan Center for Student Leadership or MVP houses the rooms for 56 organizations in Ateneo. It also serves as the main headquarters of the Sanggunian ng mga Paaralang Loyola ng Ateneo de Manila (Sanggu), the Council of Organizations of the Ateneo (COA), and the League of Independent Organizations (LIONS). Each organization has their own org room where, prior to the pandemic, you can hang out or have meetings with your orgmates!

Org culture in Ateneo is very much alive. And maybe with the incoming RecWeek, you might find yourself joining a few orgs?

Not only that, if you want to find some Ateneo merchandise, you can find and buy them at LS Bookstore located on the basement floor!

Rooms

Between SEC B and SEC C is the Matteo Ricci Study Hall, "Matteo Ricci" or "Matteo" for short. It was built in 2004 and as the name suggests, serves as a study place for students!

There are individual study rooms and computer laboratories on the first floor, or "Matteo Down" as we call it where you can study solo or just quietly by group. The second floor, or "Matteo Up", has group study tables both indoor and outdoor. You can see students reviewing for Calculus classes, practicing for orals, or just finding a good spot for Wi-Fi.

You can also find power outlets for charging and even a gender-neutral bathroom!

23 New Rizal Library

Near the De la Costa Hall along the Social Sciences Garden Area, you will find the First Pacific Hall – New Rizal Library.

The New Rizal or New Lib for short was built to accommodate the growing number of students on the campus. Not only does it have couches that are comfortable enough to take a nap in, but it also has some of the best bathrooms in Ateneo.

The building is integrated with an environment-friendly system to its structure. Rainwater is collected on the roof and stored underground for flushing the toilets in the library.

Fun Facts

The whole building is air conditioned!

Next to Covered Courts is the Old Communications Building. Also called Fine Arts Annex or FA Annex, the building contains classrooms for Fine Arts classes as well as the LS Physical Education Office.

It also has the FA Annex Black Box Theatre where plays from Ateneo theater organizations are showcased.

25 PIPAC

Next to Faura Hall and JGSOM Building is the Philippine Institute of Pure and Applied Chemistry (PIPAC).

It is a scientific institute that conducts chemical research, analysis, and training. PIPAC is an independent NGO that is not affiliated with Ateneo. A lot of the Chemistry professors also work there and special permission is needed to enter the building.

Atenean Stories

I met my first College Crush while waiting for my next class in the PLDT-CTC building. They were in the class before mine, so as I entered the classroom, they were about to exit through the same door. It was crush at first sight, and I noticed them wearing an org-designed ID lanyard (compared to the common blue Ateneo one). I recognized the org-designed ID lanyard again while in the Arete, and there they were—alone! However, it was now I who was leaving—with my friends—as they were entering. Sadly, that day would also be our last day of regular class for the school year, so it was a crush at "first" sight—and at "last".

27 Old Rizal Library

If you're fond of historic or Filipiniana collections, this place is definitely for you!

At the end of Red Brick Road is the Old Rizal Library or Old Lib.

This was built in 1967 with dedication to Dr. Jose Rizal in hopes of young Ateneans sharing his ideas of freedom and justice for others.

28 Rizal Mini Theater / Faber Hall

Behind the Old Rizal Library is Faber Hall which houses the Rizal Mini Theater and various central administration offices. Major theater productions by various student theater groups are held here.

Rooms

- Central Accounting Office
- Office of Management Information Systems
- Office of the Associate Dean for Research and Creative Work
- Office of International Relations

Atenean Stories

I really love hanging out behind Faber Hall/RMT. That small space near St. Thomas Moore is such a peaceful spot, especially when you're just there to rest (and not wait for the rehearsal break to end). I'd go there earlier than the usual call time for weekend rehearsals just so I can take in the morning air while having my first iced coffee of the day.

30 - 32 SEC A, SEC B, AND SEC C Building

X

The Science Education Complex (SEC) Buildings were built in 1997 to expand the facilities of the Ateneo to cater to the needs of students in the School of Science and Engineering.

But even if you are not from SOSE, some of your classes like NatSci might be held here! Lucky if your class is at SEC A, it's the only fully air-conditioned building among the three SEC Buildings.

SEC Buildings are also open to the SEC Walk, Skywalk, and the SEC field.

Fun Facts

Open areas in the SEC building is a great study spot while waiting for classes in the SEC building. Right beside SEC-B is the Matteo Ricci Hall which is also great for studying with friends. Finally, you could never go wrong with the New Rizal Library.

Atenean Stories

In my classroom at SEC-A, a cat straight up went there while we were all panicking for a test so we all ended up petting the cat instead of studying. Our professor only noticed the cat after their nap on one of the empty chairs. - Anonymous, 3 BS BIO

Near Leong Hall, you can find the Social Sciences Building that houses the Registrar, Loyola Schools Health Services, Loyola Schools Office of Placement and Career Services, Office of Guidance and Counseling, Department of Communication, and Department of Education.

There is a room called the Blue Snooze Room in this building that serves as a nap room for Ateneo students. It is a project by the LS Office of Guidance and Counseling launched last September 2018.

34 Loyola Schools Swimming Pool

If you have a pre-enlisted swimming class or you want to take it for PE, this is where you will have that class.

The LS Swimming Pool is also called "Happee Pool" because it was donated by Lamoiyan Corporation (manufacturers of Happee Toothpaste).

35 University Dorm

X

The University Dormitory is one of the residential buildings of the Ateneo Residence Halls. It has a North Wing for males and South Wing for females.

Students can choose to stay in this dorm or move to Cervini or Eliazo after their first year.

36 Xavier Hall

In front of Bellarmine Field is the Xavier Hall which houses the administrative offices of the Loyola Schools.

Here you can find the Office of the Vice President of the Loyola Schools Dr. Maria Luz C. Vilches and the Office of the President Fr. Roberto Yap.

This is also one of the main stops of the University E-jeep.

37 Zen Garden

X

If you need a place to relax and relieve yourself of stress, this garden is for you!

Bounded by Kostka, Xavier, Berchman, and Gonzaga Buildings is a hangout area, which is Zen Garden.

You will possibly walk past here every day to get from one class to the next. It is one of the many places where you can spend time with friends and have some conversations!
